Equal Access to Information & Justice Online Dispute Resolution – ODR 2017

Paris, France, 12 & 13 June 2017 (9:30 am – 5:30 pm)

Highlights

Online Dispute Resolution ('ODR') refers to the use of technology to support the settlement of civil and commercial disputes. Platforms appeared two decades ago offering a plethora of online processes for different types of disputes. ODR has grown exponentially and offers unique features for handling millions of disputes annually and has the potential to significantly increase access to justice across all legal jurisdictions.

ODR 2017 will demonstrate how online programmes may be implemented to benefit the administration of dispute resolution, and the direct benefits to our civil, societal and commercial life in general. The ultimate results are the benefits that individuals, societies, businesses and courts draw from facilitated resolution of disputes and avoidance of bureaucracy.

Who should attend?

Legal and dispute resolution communities including judiciary, academics and researchers, corporation representatives, dispute resolution institutions and providers, national and state governmental departments in charge of online programmes, non-governmental organisations, start-ups and established global companies, IT schools.
